Read the text below and answer questions 1–11.

GO ON, GIVE UP!

by Petro-Anne Vlok

- 1 It's enough to give you a persecution complex. Strangers glare at you on the street. On planes, buses and trains you have to suppress your craving and if you're in a restaurant or pub you have to hit the pavement. Even friends tell you to go outside.
- 2 It's been a long time since smoking was considered cool or sophisticated. You know as well as everyone else the dangers of cancer, heart attacks and strokes. And that your clouds of nicotine can make the people around you sick too. No wonder smoking has a social stigma attached to it.
- 3 In South Africa, as in many countries, the number of smokers is dropping. "Only 22 per cent of the South African population smokes", says Peter Ucko, director of the National Council Against Smoking (NCAS). In 1990, 37 per cent of South Africans older than 15 smoked.
- 4 Legislation banning smoking in public places, the ban on cigarette and tobacco advertising, the high price of cigarettes and negative perceptions of smokers have all contributed to this drop.
- 5 Yet there are people who still crave to fill their lungs with smoke. They've tried to give up but can't stop. Well, it's never too late to try again. The World Health Organisation's World No Tobacco Day is on 31 May, when people are asked to abstain from using tobacco products for 24 hours.
- 6 Why don't you give up for 24 hours? It may be the beginning of the end of smoking for you!
