MEMORANDUM

MARKS: 150

This memorandum consists of 10 pages.

QUESTION 1

1.1 Discuss how the various religions develop under the following headings:

1.1.1 Indigenous religions

- Indigenous is a name we can use for religions that started in ancient times as the beliefs and practices of usually small local tribal societies.
- They were found all over the world.
- Others may still be found in all the continents and in many of the larger islands, despite attempts to convert them by the major missionary religions, especially Christianity, Islam and Buddhism.
- While indigenous religions are all different from one another, they tend to have some aspects in common, such as oral, rather than written sacred stories and teachings.
- People following indigenous religions do not tend to think of religions as one aspect or part of their life.
- There is not even a separate name for religion; instead religion is woven into who they are and what they do.
- In South Africa, African religion first developed among the San Bushman and was influenced by their hunter gatherer way of life.
- Although there are no written records or scriptures to give information about the San religion, their rock art is thought to show aspects of their beliefs and worldview.
- The Khoekhoen were closely related to the San Bushman, but most of them kept cattle.
- Their form of African religion was thus adapted to their way of life.

(10)

1.1.2 Extinct Ancient religions

- Extinct ancient is a term we can use for the religion of Ancient Egypt, Ancient Mesopotamia, Ancient Persia, Ancient Greece and Ancient Rome.
- These religions spread throughout the empires of these powerful countries, as they took over other countries, less powerful than themselves.
- These religions had various aspects in common, although they were different from one another.
- They all tended to have gods who were responsible for keeping the universe in order.
- In the Egyptians, for example, the highest of all the gods was Ra, the sun god.
- He was the lord of the universe and created everything.

- Apart from a version of Zoroastrianism, no other religion in this group has survived.
- What has happened is that, they influenced the religions of people with whom they had contact.
- The Egyptian religion influenced the Hebrew people, who developed Judaism.
- Zoroastrianism influenced all Abrahamic religions.

(Any relevant answer should be credited.)

(10)

1.1.3 Traditional religions

- This is the name we can give to the living world religions, dating back many hundreds and sometimes thousands of years.
- Those religions are:
 - Abrahamic religions
 - Religions of India
 - Religions of China and Japan

Abrahamic religion: Judaism, Christianity and Islam.

- We called them Abrahamic religions simply because they are monotheistic.
- They emphasise a belief in one God.
- Judaism has the central idea of a covenant between God and the Jewish people.
- God's side of the covenant is to protect and provide for his people.
- Christianity started as a movement within Judaism.
- Christians believe that Jesus fulfilled the Jewish prophesy of the Messiah.
- Islam, developed later in the same part of the world as Judaism and Christianity, shares some of the sacred stories of Jews and Christians, as well as their prophets.
- Muslims believe that Allah revealed the final truth to the Prophet Muhammad, and that therefore the teachings of Islam go beyond the teachings of both Judaism and Christianity.

(Any relevant answer should be credited.)

(10)

1.2 Briefly explain the following concepts in the context of religion:

1.2.1 Evangelism

- It is a form of mission which focuses on fallen or non-active members of their religion rather than outsiders.
- It means to convert one religion to another, for example the Christian beliefs.
- Those who do this work are called evangelists, and they either do this work in their home country, or as missionaries in other countries.
- In Islam, the work of spreading the teachings is known as 'Da Wah', which means "issuing a summons' or 'making an invitation'.

- The word 'evangelise' comes from the Greek word translated as 'evangelion'.
- The Christian gospels written by the four evangelists are Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

(Any relevant answers should be credited.)

(8)

1.2.2 Proselytising

- Its meaning is similar to evangelism.
- It has a stronger meaning, and some involve forcing others to believe or convert to another religion.
- Originally, the word 'Proselyt' was used to refer to a non-Jew (a gentile) who wanted to convert to Judaism.
- Now it is used to refer to any religion worldview when adherents try to convert others to their point of view, in a forceful or coercive way.
- Coercion can be exercised by promising healing, if people change their belief or even offering financial incentives and rewards.
- Proselytisers have even been known to use violence
- Violating and destroying places of worship, sacred symbols and texts of other religions.

(Any relevant answer should be credited.)

1.2.3 Ecumenism

- Ecumenism is derived from one Greek word 'oikoumene' which means the whole inhabited world.
- It was originally used to refer to advancing a vision of unity among the different Christian church communities that had formed after the death of Jesus.
- A number of ecumenical councils were called to determine common beliefs and practices for the Christian churches.
- Nowadays, it refers to activities aimed at finding denominations, which developed after the Reformation in Europe in the 15th and 16th centuries.
- Whereas before there had only been the Roman Catholic Church.
- Now there were many different Christian denominations, e.g. the Anglican Church, Methodist, Lutherans, Baptists, etc.
- The ecumenical movement is trying to build bridges across these centuries of division without forcing an opinion or disrespecting the views of those who are different.

- It is the form of government in which the Supreme Being's commandments are seen to be the law.
- Governments on earth are carried out by the Priests or Kings.
- Archaeologists believe that early Jewish, Tibetan and Egyptian societies were all theocracies at different times.
- Modern day Iran tries to be an Islamic theocracy.
- In Israel, there are many Ultra-Orthodox Jewish social and political movements that promote idea that Israel should become a theocracy.
- There are two kinds of theocracy-the first kind is when people believe that the king himself is an incarnation of God.
- The second kind is when the state is run by priests who are believed to have a special connection to transcendent God.

(Any relevant answer should be credited.)

(10)

3.2.2 State religion

- A state religion is when one particular religion is recognized as the official religion of the country and is supported by the government.
- A relationship between the government and the state in this situation can vary from country to country.
- Sometimes a religion is recognised as the official state religion of a country, but does not get any special privileges.
- In other cases, the state religion receives financial support from the government.
- When a country has one official religion, it does not always mean that the country does not protect the right to choose one's own religion or that it will discriminate against other religions.

- Many countries have adopted secularism as a way of making sure that all religions enjoy the same treatment and rights, especially in countries that are made up of many different religious communities.
- A secular state tries to ensure that its government policies and laws are not influenced by a community's religious beliefs and practices.

- Baie lande het sekularisme amptelik aangeneem as 'n manier om seker te maak dat alle godsdiensige dieselfde behandeling en regte geniet, veral in lande waar daar baie verskillende godsdiensige gemeenskappe is.
- 'n Sekulêre staat probeer om te verseker dat sy regering beide en wette het wat nie deur gemeenskappe se godsdiensige oortuigings en praktiese beïnvloed word nie.
- Suid-Afrika is 'n voorbeeld van 'n sekulêre staat.

3.2 Gee 'n kritiese analise van die verhouding tussen godsdiens en staat deur te verwys na die volgende:

3.2.1 Teokratiese staat

- Hedendaagse Iran probeer om 'n Islamitiese teokrasie te wees.
- In Israel is daar baie ultra-ortodokse Joodse sosiale en politieke bewegings wat die idee bevorder dat Israel 'n teokrasie moet word.
- Daar is twee soorte teokrasie – die eerste soort is waar die mense glo dat die koning self 'n inkarnasie van God is.
- Die tweede soort is wanneer die staat deur priesters beheer word wat geglo word 'n spesiale band met 'n transendente god het.

(Enige relevante antwoord moet gekrediteer word.) (10)

3.2.2 Staatsgodsdiens

- 'n Staatsgodsdiens is wanneer 'n bepaalde godsdiensige organisasie amptelik erken en deur die staat ondersteun word.
- 'n Verhouding tussen godsdiens en staat in die situasie verskil van land tot land.
- Somtyds word 'n godsdiens as die amptelike staatsgodsdiens van 'n land beskou maar dan het dit geen spesiale voordele nie.
- In ander gevalle ontvang die godsdiens finansiële ondersteuning van die regering.
- Wanneer 'n land een amptelike godsdiens het, beteken dit nie dat die land die reg om die godsdiens van jou keuse te beoefen beskerm nie of dat dit teen ander godsdiens sal diskrimineer nie.
- Die mate van godsdiensvryheid hang af van die regering en sy wette.

(Enige relevante antwoord moet gekrediteer word.) (10)

3.2.3 Sekulêre staat

(Enige relevante antwoorde moet gekrediteer word.)

- Ekumenisme is afgelei van die Griekse woord 'oikoumene' wat beteken 'die hele bewoonde wêreld'.
- Dit is oorspronklik gebruik om te verwys na die bevordering van 'n visie van eenheid onder die verskillende Christelike kerkgemeenskappe wat na Jesus se dood ontstaan het.
- 'n Aantal ekumeniese rade is byeengetree om gemeenskaplike gelowe en praktiese vir die Christelike kerke saam te stel.
- Deesdae verwys dit na aktiwiteite wat daarop gemik is om eenheid en samewerking te bewerkstellig tussen Christelike denominasies wat na die Hervorming in Europa in die 15^{de} en 16^{de} eeue tot stand gekom het.
- Waar daar voorheen net die Rooms-Katolieke Kerk was, is daar nou verskillende Christelike denominasies, bv. die Anglikaanse Kerk, Metodiste, Lutherse Kerk, Baptiste, ens.

- Dit is soortgelyk aan evangelisering.
- Dit het 'n sterker betekenis en behels soms dat ander gedwing word om in 'n ander geloof te glo of dit aan te neem.
- Oorspronklik is die woord 'proseliet' gebruik vir 'n nie-Jood wat hom of haar tot Judaïsme wou bekêr.
- Nou word dit gebruik om te verwys na enige geloof of wêreldsiening wanneer aanhangers ander wil dwing om 'n hul sienswyse te aanvaar.
- Dwang kan uitgeoefen word deur beloftes van genesing indien mense van hul geloof verander, of selfs deur geldelike aansporing en belonings aan te bied.
- Proselietmakers het selfs al geweld gebruik.

- Die Christelike evangelies wat deur die vier evangeliste geskryf is, is Matteus, Markus, Lukas en Johannes.

1.2.1 Evangelisme

1.2 Bespreek kortliks die volgende konsepte in die konteks van godsdien.

(Enige relevante antwoord moet gekrediteer word.) (10)

- Tradisionele godsdienste
 - Afgesien van 'n weergawe van Zoroastrianisme, het geen ander godsdien in hierdie groep oorleef nie.
 - Wat egter gebeur het, is dat hulle die godsdienste van die mense met wie hulle kontak gehad het, beïnvloed het.
 - Die Egiptiese godsdien het die Hebreeuse mense beïnvloed, wat Judaïsme ontwikkel het.
 - Zoroastrianisme het al die Abrahamitiese gelowe beïnvloed.
- Dit is die naam wat ons aan die 'lewend' wêreldgodsdienste kan gee wat honderde en soms duisende jare terug strek.
- Hierdie godsdienste is:
 - Abrahamitiese godsdienste
 - Godsdienste van Indië
 - Godsdienste van Sjina en Japan
- Ons noem hulle Abrahamitiese godsdienste omdat hulle monoteïstes is.
- Hulle beklemtoon die geloof in een God.
- Judaïsme het die sentrale idee van 'n verbond tussen God en die Joodse mense.
- God se kant van die verbond is om sy mense te beskerm en na hulle om te sien.
- Die Christendom het begin as 'n beweging binne Judaïsme.
- Christene glo dat Jesus die Joodse profesie van die Messias vervul het.
- Islam wat later in dieselfde deel van die wêreld as Judaïsme en die Christendom ontwikkel het, deel sommige van die heilige verhale van die Jode en die Christene, sowel as hul profete.
- Moslems glo egter dat Allah die finale waarheid aan die Profete Mohammed geopenbaar het, en dat die leerstelling van Islam dus verder strek as die leerstelling van Judaïsme en die Christendom.

VRAAG 1

1.1 Bespreek hoe die volgende godsdiens ontwikkel het onder die volgende opskrifte:

1.1.1 Inheemse godsdiens

- 'Inheems' is 'n naam wat ons vir godsdiens kan gebruik wat in antieke tye as die geloofsoortuigings en -praktyke van gewoonlik klein plaaslike stamgemeenskappe begin het.
- Hulle was regoor die wêreld gevind.
- Ander kan steeds op al die vastelande en op baie van die groter eilande gevind word ten spyte van pogings wat deur belangrike sendinggodsdiens om hulle te bekêr, veral Christendom, Islam en Boeddhisme.
- Hoewel inheemse godsdiens almal van mekaar verskil, is hulle geneig om sekere aspekte gemeen te hê, soos mondelinge eerder as skriftelike heilige stories en leringe.
- Mens wat inheemse godsdiens navolg, is nie geneig om aan godsdiens as een aspek van hul lewe te dink nie.
- Daar is dikwels nie eens 'n afsonderlike naam vir godsdiens nie, in plaas daarvan is godsdiens nou verweef met wie hulle is en wat hulle doen.
- In Suid-Afrika het Afrika-godsdiens eerste onder die San ontwikkel en dit is beïnvloed deur hul jagter-versamelaar manier van lewe.
- Hoewel daar geen geskrewe rekords of heilige skrifte is om inligting oor die San-godsdiens te verskat nie, word gevoel dat hul rotskuns aspekte van hul geloofsoortuigings en wêreldbeskouing toon.
- Die Khoekoen was nou verwant aan die San, maar die meeste van hulle het vee aangehou.
- Hulle vorm van Afrika-godsdiens is dus by hulle manier van lewe aangepas.

1.1.2 Uitgestorwe antieke godsdiens

- 'Uitgestorwe antieke' is 'n term wat ons vir die godsdiens van Antieke Egipte, Antieke Persië, Antieke Griekeland en Antieke Rome, kan gebruik.
- Hierdie godsdiens het deur die ryke van hierdie magtige lande versprei, soos hulle ander wat nie so magtig soos hulle was nie, oorgeneem het.
- Hierdie godsdiens het verskeie aspekte in gemeen gehad, hoewel hulle van mekaar verskil het.
- Hulle het almal gode gehad wat verantwoordelik was om die heeal ordelik te hou.
- In Egiptiese godsdiens, byvoorbeeld, was die hoogste van al die gode, Ra die songod.
- Hy was die meester van die heeal en het alles geskap.
